- 5 These recommendations reflect the essential responsibilities of early childhood educators identified in Power to the Profession and the Professional Standards and Competencies of Early Childhood Educators. This statement does not duplicate these documents but lifts specific elements using an equity lens. Standards 1, 4, and 5 of the Standards and Competencies are reflected under the heading “Create a caring, equitable community of learners.” Standards 2 and 3 are reflected in the similarly named headings. Standard 6 is reflected in the general recommendations as well as the advocacy recommendations. Readers are encouraged to refer to the above documents for further information regarding expectations for the knowledge, skills, and competencies of all early childhood educators. Similarly, these recommendations are consistent with the principles and ideals of the NAEYC Code of Ethical Conduct and Statement of Commitment.
